Mass Union Meeting at Shelbyville---Let It be a Rouser.

ing citizens of Bedford, Lincoln, Rutherford and other counties, have agreed upon a call for a Union mass meeting ary steps for the organization of the government of the State, and to discuss on the part of the Military Governor, killed and fourteen taken prisoners. design to urge the people to take the matter in their own hands as did those propose to stand not on the order of the letter work, but will work at once.

This is a sensible move on the part of the people. They who wait on politicians, are like those who wait on prince's favors-almost sure to be dis- lainous outrages at once. appointed. The war has been the result of the rule of this class of men; if we would pacify the country, the masses must throw them overboard.

Now is the opportune moment to accomplish so desirable a work; the great body of those who have shown themselves willing tools in the hands of demagogues, are in the rebel army; and the intelligent, thinking people, need have no apprehension about being outvoted. It is now possible to reinstate the civil authority, and inaugurate men into office who are honest, and true. We believe the people are competent to so desirable a work; and the sooner they take it in hand the better.

Let them at once proceed to make arrangement for the election of a Governor, and other State officers; and authorities, can provide for the rest. If ficulty which for some time past seems these, in conjunction with the local we had a civil administration in Tennessee, at least 10,000 troops used for garrison, and police purposes, could be spared to the front; of this, every one must be aware, who has given the subject attention; and this result, to say nothing of the advantages of civil over military rule, ought to be enough to spur every one on to action, who has not determined to subordinate the people's good to his own aggrandizement. It is earnestly desired that every county in Tennessee should send delegates to this meeting; and it is sincerely to be hoped that every one who desires to see civil law restored and our State represented in the United States Congress, should attend.

Able speakers-and among them Maj. Gen. Rousseau, Maj, Gen. Slocum, Hon. W. H. Wisener, Hon. Edward Cooper, Hon. W. G. Brownlow, Hon. A. Johnson, Hon. Bailie Peyton, Hon. Jordan Stokes, Maj.-Gen. Thomas, and other distinguished gentlemen-have been invited to be present at the meeting, and it is expected that they will attend.

Gen. Rou seau, who has won to himself golden opinions from all Union men, will have great weight with the people. His military administration has been unexceptionable; and he has done more to conciliate the masses lay it down, the moment it can be done with safety to the public. Of this fact, no man is or can be ignorant; and hence, being known as a disinterested patriot, his counsels will have weight, where those of a man who only acts for himself, and who is known only as selfish, will fall unheeded upon the

Again, we say, let the meeting be a full one; let it speak the sentiments of the Union people of the State, and not of a clique, who were only prevented from going with the rebellion, because some other men obtained the inside track, and secured all the offices under the new order of things. With such, let the truly loyal men have nothing

The Mystery Solved.

Ngar two years ago a prominent citizen of Cincinnati picked up a strange jewel on the steps of the post-office. It was evidently intended to be worn as a gentleman's breast pin, but was so stangely fashioned that its design could not be fathomed by these to whom it was shown. The principal part of the ornament was a golden ring or circle, the inner edge of which was covered with jet enamel, but coiled behind the ring was a tiny golden serpent, bright and glittering, with two infinitessimal diamonds set in its head for eyes. It was beautifully wrought, and as a work of art, seemed to stand by itself, beyond praise, but its hidden signification was too much for the inquisitorial powers of all our heirarchs. What could it
